STATEMENT OF NEED

Veteran suicide and mental health challenges remain a national crisis, with an average of 17 Veterans per day₁ dying by suicide—a number that may be as high as 40-44 per day₂ when accounting for underreported deaths and self-injury mortality such as overdose. Over 6,000 Veteran suicides₁ occur annually, making suicide the second leading cause of death among Veterans under 45. Female Veterans are especially impacted, with suicide rates increasing by 24%₁ in recent years.

The challenges Veterans face extend beyond mental health. Nearly one in three Veterans experience PTSD₃ exacerbated by traumatic brain injuries (TBIs), which account for 22% of combat wounds. Yet, less than half of Veterans in need of mental health care receive treatment₄. Transitioning to civilian life further compounds these struggles, with 76% of Veterans finding the process stressful₄ and many reporting financial distress, inadequate access to medical care, and substance abuse.

Fort Freedom addresses these critical issues with cutting-edge therapies, holistic practices, and a supportive community through its three levels of care:

The Freedom Program, The Virtual Program, & The Honor Program.

At Fort Freedom we're building a world where every Veteran overcomes their trauma to lead a life of purpose, resilience, and renewed strength.

OUR MISSION

Fort Freedom aims to reduce the Veteran suicide rate and heal the wounds of PTSD by providing transformative programs that empower Veterans to reclaim their lives.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

2024 has been a year of resilience, growth, and purpose for Fort Freedom, as we continue our unwavering commitment to addressing the critical challenges faced by our nation's Veterans. Every day, the heartbreaking reality is that 17 Veterans take their own lives—a number that may actually reach 40-44 when factoring in underreported cases of overdoses and self-injury mortality. Over 6,000 Veteran suicides occur annually, making it the second leading cause of death among Veterans under 45. These numbers are not just statistics; they are a call to action.

This year, we expanded our mission with the launch of the Honor Program, providing flexible care for local Veterans who need support but cannot fully commit to our in-person Freedom Program. Alongside the Virtual Program, which also supports Veterans' families, these three levels of care embody our holistic approach to wellness. We aim to address every barrier—mental, emotional, physical, and spiritual—that stands in the way of recovery. Our programs aren't just about treatment; they're about building a community that empowers Veterans to reclaim their lives, strengthen their families, and thrive in civilian life.

At Fort Freedom, we believe that small, consistent actions lead to big wins. Whether it's daily gratitude practices, shared moments of vulnerability, or meaningful connections forged through our alumni network, our work is grounded in the belief that freedom comes from within. The challenges Veterans face are immense, but so is their strength. As we look toward 2025, we are committed to amplifying our impact, honoring their service, and ensuring that every Veteran who comes through our programs leaves with hope and a renewed sense of purpose. Together, we are building a future where Veterans are supported, celebrated, and empowered to live the fulfilling lives they deserve.

Stay Awesome,

Jerry Haffey, Jr. Chairman

This funding is vital as we continue to expand our service lines for Veterans and their family members.

INTRODUCED THE HONOR PROGRAM

The Honor Program was created to bridge the gap between Fort Freedom’s Virtual and Freedom Programs, offering a flexible solution for local Veterans who need comprehensive support but cannot commit to living on campus due to personal or life circumstances. Designed to provide a balanced mix of in-person and virtual care, the Honor Program ensures Veterans can still benefit from essential therapies and coaching while maintaining their existing responsibilities. This innovative approach reflects Fort Freedom’s commitment to meeting Veterans where they are, ensuring that no one is left without the support they need to reclaim their lives.

MILITARY & VETFEST EVENTS

This year, we partnered with our friends at Greencastle Consulting, in Malvern, PA for their annual event, “VetFest.” This festival featured Veteran owned and operated businesses and non-profit organizations. We talked to hundreds of Veterans and business owners about Fort Freedom, our mission, and how we can help the folks in the area through strategic partnerships. More to come!

2024 FORT FREEDOM MERITORIOUS SERVICE AWARD

JON STANTON

What inspired you to pursue a career in corrective exercise and postural alignment therapy, and how has your personal journey shaped your approach to helping others?

My journey from a knee injury inspired me pursue a career in corrective exercise and postural alignment therapy. My injury became a turning point, sparking not only a personal transformation but also a desire to help others avoid or overcome similar struggles.

Can you share a memorable success story from your work with Fort Freedom Veterans that highlights the impact of posture therapy on their journey to recovery?

One notable success story was the back pain relief that one of the Veterans experienced. He said he had been in constant pain for the previous 10 years before starting the program at Fort Freedom.

What do you enjoy most about working with the Veterans at Fort Freedom, and how do you see your role fitting into the program's holistic approach to healing?

What I enjoy most about working with the Veterans at Fort Freedom is the opportunity to witness real, lasting transformations. Veterans come to us with a range of physical, emotional, and mental challenges, many of which they've been carrying for years—sometimes even decades. Being a part of their healing journey and seeing how small changes, such as improved movement or reduced pain, can lead to profound shifts in their quality of life is incredibly fulfilling.

If you could offer one piece of advice to someone who feels stuck or limited by physical pain, what would it be?

Some things that I would advise to someone feeling stuck by physical pain would be to focus on what they can do, rather than what they can't do. Getting a proper amount of sleep, drinking enough water, and doing whatever kind of cardiovascular exercise they can do may also help with their pain.

PROGRAM FEATURE

THE HEART OF FORT FREEDOM: 76 HOUSE

Nestled on 76 Trail North, 76 House serves as more than just the physical home of Fort Freedom—it's a sanctuary where Veterans begin their journey to reclaim their strength and purpose. The location is steeped in meaning, with its address offering a unique connection to the historical significance of 1776, the year America declared its independence. Just as 1776 marked a bold new beginning for a nation, 76 House symbolizes a new chapter for the Veterans we serve, helping them break free from the constraints of PTSD and rediscover their potential. This dual significance imbues the facility with a sense of history and purpose, making it a fitting environment for the transformative work happening within its walls.

Inside 76 House, Veterans experience a comprehensive program that addresses physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual well-being. From trauma therapy and posture-focused healing to Stoicism practice and community-building activities, 76 House is a place of resilience and renewal. The facility's serene location and state-of-the-art amenities provide Veterans with the tools and space they need to grow and thrive. Its connection to both the local community and the shared heritage of freedom makes 76 House a truly unique and meaningful cornerstone of Fort Freedom's mission. Here, Veterans embark on their own journey of independence, supported by a team dedicated to their recovery and reinvention.

BECOME AN AMBASSADOR

The Ambassador Program is an incredible opportunity for passionate individuals to support our mission and make a profound difference. Each year, we invite volunteers to rise to the challenge, setting a fundraising goal of $10,000 that can be achieved individually or with a team. Ambassadors receive personalized support, including a fundraising website, marketing materials, and staff guidance. The top fundraiser is honored at our annual Veterans Day Celebration, receiving the prestigious title of Fort Freedom Ambassador. If Gary's inspiring story motivates you, join us next year to lead from the front and help transform the lives of our Veterans. Together, we can achieve remarkable things!

Fort Freedom proudly recognizes Gary O'Brian as the 2024 Fort Freedom Ambassador for his extraordinary fundraising efforts and unwavering dedication to our mission. Gary went above and beyond this year, raising over $11,500 with the support of more than 50 donors! His remarkable commitment shone as he and his Team Buffalo athletes, participated in a series of triathlons, using their athletic pursuits to inspire others and rally support for the Veterans in our program. From all of us at Fort Freedom, we extend our heartfelt gratitude and congratulations to Gary for his incredible achievements and for making a lasting impact in the lives of those we serve.
